

WHY AM I ASKED TO TAKE OFF MY HAT?

BOSTON BAR ELEMENTARY SECONDARY

REASON NUMBER ONE

Roman leaders wore war helmets to protect their heads... but before they would battle each other they would walk out to talk to each other and remove them to show who they were facing.

RESPECT

REASON NUMBER TWO

Knights often wore armor in public. He would remove his helmet in front of a friend as a token saying that he feared no blow. Always removing it in front of a king showed your life belonged to that king.

REASON NUMBER THREE

Vlad the Impaler (Dracula) once nailed head dresses to the skulls of some Turkish representatives who failed to remove them in his court.

REASON NUMBER FOUR

The hat used to protect your head from industrial dirt. You removed it in a home and left the 'dirt' behind. Also it was removed when there was a lady in the room.
